Day 2 - October 3rd - Friday (D)Athens

Mid- morning arrival at Athens Airport where you will be met by our representative and escorted to the first-class Electra Hotel. Spend the rest of the day at leisure. Evening lecture, then after dinner enjoy a walk of the Plaka, which is the old Turkish quarter of Athens located on the northeastern slope of the Acropolis. Electra Palace Hotel

Day 3 - October 4th - Saturday (B, L, D)Athens

Visit the famed Acropolis and the Parthenon. The Acropolis (meaning "high city") saw the construction of temples during the Mycenaean Age. These were destroyed by the Persians in 480 B.C. Pericles began to rebuild the city of temples, which was regarded as the zenith of Classical Greece and the Golden Age of Athens. The crowning temple is the Parthenon, designed with mathematical genius. To achieve perfect form, the foundation was built slightly concave with the fluted Doric columns slightly convex, to make both look straight. Visit the Acropolis Museum, which houses a splendid collection of Archaic and Classical Greek sculpture. A lecture on Greek politics is planned for the evening. A people-to-people experience is planned at a local taverna. Electra Palace Hotel

Day 4 - October 5th - Sunday (B, D)Athens / Kalambaka

Begin your journey of exploration to the great sites of classical Greece by traveling through the countryside to Kalambaka. This city was destroyed by the Nazis in WWII. It is now a modern city close to Meteora and its rock-top monasteries. Since the 11th century, solitary hermit monks have lived in the caverns of Meteora. Access to the monasteries was first controlled by removable ladders, then windlasses hauled monks up in nets. Steps have now been hewn into the rocks. Hotel Divani Meteora

Day 5 - October 6th - Monday (B, L)Kalambaka / Delphi

Visit the Church of the Metropolis dating back to the 14th century. Wall paintings dating back to the mid-18th century still exist. Then begin your journey to Delphi. Built on Mt. Parnassos, overlooking the Gulf of Corinth, Delphi's setting is stunning. According to mythology, Zeus released two eagles at opposite ends of the world, and they met here. Visit the Archaeological Museum, which includes one of the most famous statues of ancient Greece, the Charioteer (a life-sized bronze statue), and the statue of Antinoos and the Naxian Sphinx.

Delphi Amalia Hotel or Delphi Palace Hotel

Day 6 - October 7th - Tuesday (B, D)Delphi / Olympia

Visit the sanctuary at Delphi, dedicated to Apollo. Pilgrims bearing gifts came to ask advice of its oracle. The Delphi oracle was believed to be Apollo's mouthpiece and was the most powerful in Greece. Battles were fought, marriages contracted, journeys embarked upon, and business deals closed on the strength of its guidance. In 191 BC Delphi was taken by the Romans, and the oracle's power dwindled. It was consulted on personal rather than political matters. Travel to Olympia.

Europa Hotel Olympia

Day 7 - October 8th - Wednesday (B, D)Olympia

Olympia, the most holy place in ancient Greece and site of the first Olympic Games. View the remains of the great Temple of Zeus; the Temple of Hera, one of the earliest known examples of the Doric style of architecture; the famed Museum with one of the world's major sculptures, "Hermes" by Praxiteles; and the Stadium that gave birth to the Olympic Games.

Europa Hotel Olympia

Day 8 - October 9th - Thursday (B, L)Olympia / Kalavrita / Nauplia

Visit the Aghia Lavra Monastery then return to Kalavrita for lunch at a local taverna on the square. Visit the Mega Spileon monastery. Continue on to Nauplia, the first capitol of Greece.

Hotel Grande Bretagne

Day 9 - October 10th - Friday (B, D)Nauplia - Mycenae and Epidaurus

After breakfast, embark on a sightseeing program of Nauplia. Orchards laden with ripe fruits stand in the foreground. Beyond them lies the calm Bay of Nauplia with a picturesque Venetian fortress in between. The first Greek school and Parliament were established in Nauplia. In the church of Agios Georgios, Capodistrias, the first Governor of Greece, was sworn into office and the first King of Greece took the oath of allegiance. Visit the famous citadel of Mycenae, inhabited since 3,000 B.C., from which Agamemnon set forth for the war with Troy. Visit the ruins, including the famous Lion Gate and the Tomb of Agamemnon. Travel to Epidaurus, one of the great centers of medicine in the ancient world. It was the sanctuary of Aesculapius, the god of medicine and antiquity. Designed by Polykritos to accommodate over 14,000 spectators, the theater in Epidaurus will provide a highlight of the visit to this site. This magnificent theater is one of the marvels of Greece with its remarkable acoustics. Return to Nauplia for a walking tour of the city. Hotel Grande Bretagne

Day 10 - October 11th - Saturday (B, L)

Nauplia / Corinth / Athens

Travel to Corinth and view the columns of the Temple of Apollo. In the afternoon you will have lunch in Loutraki followed by sightseeing. A lecture on the Greek press will be presented in the evening. Electra Palace Hotel

Day 11 - October 12th - Sunday (B, D)

Athens

Visit the National Archaeological Museum containing a collection of priceless treasures from the past. The museum should provide an excellent review of the various periods of Greek history. You will also view the imposing Temple of Olympian Zeus, largest of the ancient temples of Athens; Hadrian's Arch, dating from Roman times; and the Temple of Theseus, the best-preserved Doric temple in all of Greece.
